

Journey Into Silence

By Andrew Pell

It is a long journey into silence.
To take this journey requires patience.
Journey deep into the very presence of God
It is a path that many before you have trod.
Quiet the mind and heart from the rigors of life.
Step away from darkness and all earthly strife.
Let the spirit of God fall upon you from high above.
Let it glide down like a gentle dove.
The business of life fades into a timeless place.
The spirit of God does not need to race.
Let yourself be energized, renewed in peace.
With every breath, Gods love can only increase.
God omnipotent, omniscient and omnipresent;
God's spirit is a beautiful fragrant.
Let his goodness fall upon you.
Blessings will materialize because his words are true.
It will be refreshing as gentle drops of rain.
With each drop, your life will not be the same.
Journey into silence and inhale the breath of life.

The End