

Metaphor

By Robin Lipinski

It is funny, yes, and true.

It explains the matching of mind.

It fills one with reason for a metaphor, it that part of what you're trying for?

It is sad to those who think they are trying while others are laughing at their attempt.

It is good that you post a link.

It is black and white without any real color, unlike the true joy of life.

It brings attention.

It brings attraction.

It is good to see you smile.

It is something one could write for awhile while beginning the sentence with 'it.'
